

Communications manager (f/x/m)

Permanent employee, 30-40 hrs/week, in our office in Vienna or hybrid

Are you an experienced communications professional who has worked in this area for at least three years? Would you like to take the next step in your career and oversee the communication activities of a small, but growing non-profit organisation? Are you interested in a position where your work positively affects people all around the world? Then this job might be for you!

Open Knowledge Maps is revolutionising the field of scientific knowledge discovery. We are building a visual search engine that dramatically increases the visibility of research findings for science and society alike. We are a non-profit organisation and we believe that a better way to explore and discover scientific knowledge will benefit us all.

As communications manager, you are responsible for communicating our activities to our worldwide audience.

Once you join us, you will be:

- Overseeing all of our communication activities
- Coordinating communication campaigns and communication materials
- · Managing communication channels including our social media channels
- Supporting the Chairperson in fundraising and supporting member acquisition activities
- Supporting the development of regional and national consortia for Open Knowledge Maps
- Managing the relationships with our community and (prospective) partners
- Coordinating the Enthusiasts program, our community outreach program
- Providing feedback and input from the community to the Head of Product
- Writing blog posts, newsletters, and social media updates, and providing text snippets for a variety of other promotional materials
- Coordinating meetings and events and researching opportunities for presentations
- Giving presentations on Open Knowledge Maps

Your expertise:

- 3-4 years of professional experience in a communications or marketing role
- 1-2 years of professional experience in a management or coordination role
- Exceptional organisational skills
- Experience in designing and running multi-stakeholder processes
- Exceptional writing and interpersonal communication skills
- Fluent English (equivalent to C2); German is a plus, but not essential
- Experience in managing social media channels
- Familiarity with email marketing software, presentation software, productivity tools, and office software
- Strong knowledge of communications and marketing ethics and best practices
- Familiarity with science communication and open science in particular is welcome but not required
- Public speaking abilities and experience in sales/acquisition and/or data-driven decision-making are an asset
